INTRODUCTION

This compilation contains records of cemeteries, graveyards, and graves as found in Rutherford County, Tennessee and along the county lines contiguous to Rutherford County, i.e., Davidson County, Wilson County, Cannon County, Coffee County, Bedford County, Marshall County, and Williamson County. Also within this compilation are some Family Records, death information from Session Minutes of 1st Presbyterian Church of Murfreesboro, and information from death notices found in early newspapers in Rutherford County and the Middle Tennessee area. A copy of the 1878 Beers Map, divided into nine (9) segments, has also been included.

The beginning of this book contains copies of USGS map quadrangles. I have placed a number on these quadrangle maps which correspond to the number of the cemetery in this book. With the map location of the cemetery along with the brief direction descriptions given with each cemetery, it is hoped that the reader will be aided in identifying each cemetery location. I have also included a copy of the 1878 Beers map of Rutherford County. A larger copy of this map is located in the Rutherford County Register's Office in Murfreesboro.

Percy Priest Lake Relocation and Mt. Juliet Cemetery, Wilson County, Tennessee

The federal government acquired 20,000 acres of land, located in Davidson, Wilson and Rutherford counties, for the Percy Priest Lake and Dam Project. 97 family cemeteries located within the three counties had to be relocated prior to the construction of the dam and the filling of the lake. The contract for removal and relocation of these cemeteries fell to the Army Corps of Engineers and was signed on March 18, 1966, and all work was completed on July 13, 1966. In the Completion Report, it was stated that the first step was the purchase of re-interment space at Mt. Juliet Cemetery, Wilson County, TN. The Relocation Project required the relocation of 2,243 graves and 97 cemeteries to Mt. Juliet Cemetery or other cemetery, as designated by family descendants; the removal and re-setting of 478 gravestones and monuments, the installation of 1,738 new concrete graves markers and 109 Section markers. Also, included in the Completion Report were photographs of the individual cemeteries prior to removal and after relocation. List of property owners where the cemeteries were located. Name, number of each cemetery, with the names and death dates, of those burials which had grave markers. Plat map of graves in each cemetery prior to removal. Maps showing the locations of the original cemeteries prior to removal. List of cemeteries, number of reburials, and Sections of these reburials in Mt. Juliet Cemetery, Wilson County, TN. Plat maps and Section maps, showing the relocation sites, in Mt. Juliet Cemetery. A family history researcher may study copies of the Corps of Engineer records at the Nashville-Davidson Metro Government Archives.

Evergreen Cemetery

The data for Evergreen Cemetery inscriptions is enormous and for that reason I have listed it in alphabetical order at the end of this volume. NAMES OF BURIALS IN EVERGREEN CEMETERY DO NOT APPEAR IN THE MASTER INDEX.

Stones River National Battlefield Cemetery & Roselawn Cemetery

These 2 cemeteries are NOT included in this book. The Battlefield Cemetery is well-documented and information concerning burials may be obtained from their office at the Battlefield site. Roselawn Cemetery is a very recent cemetery and their office can furnish information concerning burials.

Abbreviations

The following abbreviations were used to consolidate space: m. = married; b. = born; d. = died; dau. = daughter; husb. = husband; b/d = born & died on same day; y m d = year month day; N = north; E = east; S = south; W = west; NW = northwest, etc.

Cemetery Information

All pertinent genealogical information has been copied as correctly as possible, though some errors may have been made. Spelling of names is listed as inscribed on the gravestone. Only those who have worked with old tombstones know how difficult it can be at times to read some of the stones. However, an attempt was made to preserve information before it is forever lost by the ravages of time and elements, vandalism, neglect due to family relocations and the inevitable march of progress. Inevitably, there is some duplication of information as supposition of burials and relocations of graves occurred. The locations of the cemeteries correspond to and are indicated by number on reductions of the U. S. Geological Survey, 7½ minute quadrangle maps, each identified by name with a grid in the front of this volume to show its placement. A short descriptive paragraph is given with each cemetery, which includes directions to the cemetery or graveyard from Murfreesboro as a starting point.

Many graves have been lost to history and can never be found or recorded. Graves also exist with only a sandstone or fieldstone marker, which may or may not have had an inscription. Weather and time have erased anything which may have been inscribed.

This compilation is an attempt to bring together into one volume the many pieces of information collected over the years by countless people, many of whom have now gone on to their own grave. Jeannette Tillotson Acklen in her book "Tombstone Inscriptions and Manuscripts" Pub. 1933 is referred to as "Acklen." Jill K. Garrett & Iris H. McClain in their book "Some Rutherford Co., Tenn. Cemetery Records" Pub 1968 is referred to as "Garrett & McClain." Deane Porch published in July 1965 "Evergreen Cemetery, Murfreesboro, Tennessee." Rutherford Co., Tenn. Cemeteries: Vol I, Northwest Third of County; Vol II, Eastern Third of County, & Vol III, Southwest Third of County prepared by Stones River Chapter, S.A.R. and Rutherford County Historical Society, 1975. Others who tromped through heavy underbrush, up and down hills, behind barns, etc., etc., gathering data from old tombstone inscriptions and acknowledged here are: Hector Floyd Adams, Mr. & Mrs. J. ### General Information

Although there are some current (2004) burials listed in this volume, little attempt was made to update or correct listings after ca 1966. At approximately that time people entered the Social Security rolls and their death dates, along with their birth dates, can be obtained from the Social Security Death Index which is located in several places on the internet. I have great respect for the earlier compilers of cemetery information who did not have a computer to work with to index the thousands of names that appear in this book.

Although an attempt has been made to include every known cemetery and graveyard, inevitably many will be found and “unearthed” after publication of this book. I have tried to make this book as comprehensive and as usable as possible. My hope is that all these wonderful Rutherford County individuals will now be remembered and their names will not be lost in the dimness of time. My hope, also, is that this book will be of great genealogical service to those seeking a link to their past and, perhaps, immortality.

90. CANNONSBURGH CEMETERY - Murfreesboro Quadrangle. Off S. E. Broad St. on S. Front St. This is reconstructed "Cannonsburgh Pioneer Village". The gravestones are not original to the property. Gravestones are a common component of house foundations, walkways, stair steps, etc. These stones were found unassociated with any particular cemetery and were placed here for protection.
The stone of Joel Childress was, apparently, originally on his property [see Childress Cemetery in this book].
William Baskerville, born Apr 10, 1812 - died Mar 30, 1885
Florence Rieves, 1848 - 1926

91. CANON [CANNON] CEMETERY - LaVergne Quadrangle. Located on Jones Mill Road, immediately behind Smyrna Airport, now surrounded on three sides by Percy Priest Lake. Marked "Canon cem" on USGS map. The U. S. Army Corps of Engineers surveyed and staked out the graves that could be located and numbered 450 graves. 93 graves were removed to other cemeteries. Copy of the U. S. Engineers report, map of the cemetery and relocation cemeteries is on file in the Rutherford County Register's office. HISTORY of the Cemetery: Cannon or Canon Cemetery began as a public burying ground in 1912 on the property which originally belonged to Theophilus Canon, who donated the land. Robert Payne Edmondson later donated the lower section which was moved and which adjoined the original old John Edmondson place. The last burial in the cemetery was in Oct 1951 when Amanda E. McLaughlin was buried there..."

Elizabeth Graves Coffee "said to be buried here." b. 1751, d. Rutherford Co. She married 1767 Joshua Coffee (1745 - 1797). They lived on Stones River about 2 miles from Old Jefferson. She was the mother of General John Coffee of the War of 1812. Local tradition says she is buried here.

Part 1. Graves relocated to other cemeteries. Also moved were 58 unknown.

105. CASTLEMAN-BRUEER CEMETERY - LaVergne Quadrangle. NW on Broad Street-Nashville Highway (US 41-70), right (N) on Stones River Road, left (NW) on Mason Circle, 2/3 mile N of LaVergne, W of intersection with Sand Hill Road on Rosencranz Circle. Marked "Cem." on USGS map. This cemetery was located on the Vernon H. Mason farm, who gave the following information. The farm was part of the original Buchanan home in this county. Efforts are in process of documenting this site as being the center of "Buchanansville," part of the beginning of LaVergne. The frontier station [Buchanan Station] home is now gone, but it is believed there was a postal station in the Buchanan home during the very early 1800s. A school and church were located across Hurricane Creek on the property of J. B. McNeil of Davidson Co. The land was then in Rutherford County, however, and a large cemetery was located on that property. A few stones can still be read bearing the names of Cawthon and Burt. This cemetery was somehow destroyed several years ago. Further information concerning Buchanansville is to be recorded in the LaVergne History. By: George Chaney, Andrew Chaney & Shirly Chaney. 117. CITY CEMETERY (OLD) - Murfreesboro Quadrangle. Located on East Vine Street about four blocks from the Public Square in Murfreesboro. On the NW Quadrant corner had been located the First Presbyterian Church which was destroyed during the Civil War. Many markers are down, buried, crumbled, in piles of stones, and deteriorated.
Tombstone inscriptions were copied in 1938 by the WPA and are on file in the State Library & Archives; many of these could not be found in 1968. Acklen's book refers to some of the inscriptions. Also, a manuscript by the C.A.R. was made, a copy of which is at Linebaugh [it seems to have many mistakes]. Garrett & McClain in 1968, utilized these resources, as well as newspapers and their own review of the tombstones, when adding these listings to their book,
"Some Rutherford Co. Cemetery Records." In 1980 another list of burials was made by the MTSU Historic Preservation students. In 2003 an archeological dig was made on the foundations of the old Presbyterian Church. At that time another review of the stones & their inscriptions was made. In 1873 the city purchased 20 acres from James Maney for a new cemetery to be called Evergreen Cemetery. Lots were exchanged for new ones in the new cemetery and many bodies were removed to Evergreen. Many were left in this old cemetery. A number of Federal soldiers were buried here during the Civil War, but these graves were all removed to Stones River National Cemetery.

Thomas Lamb 1743 - 1816 & wife, Katherine Lamb 1763 - 1834

Williamson Co. tax records show that Thomas Lamb owned land in the Versailles area as early as 1810. Thomas & Katherine Lamb had tombstones and a wall of dressed rock, about 3 feet high, around their graves. Mr. Holt Garrett told us that the rocks were stolen and used to build a chimney on a nearby farm. The tombstones were still in place in the early 1970s. Thomas Lamb's stone was there, but down, in 1979, but Katherine Lamb's stone was gone. By 1980 both stones had disappeared. Mr. Holt could remember there being 25-30 graves. We found several fieldstones and some obvious graves that were unmarked.

377A. LEDBETTER CEMETERY - Murfreesboro Quadrangle. SW on Salem Pike (Rte 99), right (N) 1 mile on River Rock Road. The following information comes from William C. Ledbetter, 2005:

Richard Ledbetter, Sr. (ca. 1690-1767), his son, Richard Ledbetter, Jr. (ca 1717-1749), who married Nov 5, 1741 in Brunswick Co., VA, Mary Walton, and Richard, Jr.'s son, Isaac Ledbetter, lived their lives in Brunswick Co., VA. On Feb 10, 1814, in Brunswick Co., VA, Isaac's son, Isaac Ledbetter (ca 1775-1819), who had married Dec 2, 1797, Nancy King, gave power of attorney to Sterling W. Smith and moved with his wife and five of his children to Williamson Co., TN. Nancy was the daughter of Henry and Hannah King. Isaac purchased land Oct 4, 1814 near what is now Triune, TN on Hwy. #96. It is possible that he built the log house on this land now owned by Marie Little Ehresman. Isaac's mother-in-law, Hannah King, born NC and died 1815 Williamson Co., TN is buried in the cemetery behind the log house. Isaac sold the land to his brother-in-law, William King, on Dec 14, 1816. Hannah King's tombstone states "mother of William and Elias King." Both William and Elias came to Tennessee about 1814. Hannah, Nancy, William and Elias are named in Henry King's Will, Brunswick Co., VA, Will Book 5, page 49, dated Jan 4, 1790, and proved Jan 24, 1792. Isaac Ledbetter purchased land in Rutherford Co., TN, Deed Book K, p. 450, on the W side of W. Fork of Stones River, 900 acres, Mar 25, 1816, from William Lytle. He moved his family, wife Nancy, daughters, Elizabeth, Nancy, and Rebecca, and sons, William and Richard, to Rutherford Co., where his youngest child, Isaac, was born on Jan 12, 1817. Isaac's land was located W of Murfreesboro on the Salem Road at the corner of what is now known as River Rock Road. The first Ledbetter home was built about one mile N of the Salem Road on River Rock Road. Just N of the house, the family cemetery was established. From 1817 until the late 1800s, Ledbetter family members, neighbors, and friends were buried here. According to my grandfather, Doc Lytle Ledbetter (1872-1959), the cemetery was vandalized during the 1930s. At that time, the iron fence was stolen, and markers and monuments were taken or broken. Part of the marker of Isaac's wife, Nancy King Ledbetter (1777-1842) is the only marker to remain. Doc's son, my father William Ledbetter (1902 - 1977) remember that in his youth he made trips to cut the grass and clean the cemetery. Isaac Ledbetter's Will was dated Dec 31, 1818, and proved Mar 1819, in Rutherford Co., TN, naming his wife, Nancy, daughters, (Elizabeth, the only one by name), sons, William Richard, and Isaac. The Will was witnessed by David Ledbetter and Elias King.

Known to have been at least two box type markers. These were used between 1830 & 1850. Copied from "A History of the Town of Smyrna, Tennessee" by Walter King Hoover. Published 1968. Page 534. "Nelson—A Nelson grave plot is located in the Meadowbrook Subdivision on the SE corner of Lot No. 75, S of Clearview Drive. This Nelson family owned extensive lands along the Stewarts Creek, and were of the revolutionary war period, early settlers in this area. Some of these graves had large slabs of stone the size of a grave above ground, some had markers or headstones. Nothing remains today as evidence of this hardy pioneer family that began the history of Tennessee, except a small grove of trees on a raised plot of ground. Some of the graves were on the Bud Gregory property and years ago were plowed over. When the Meadowbrook Subdivision was constructed the plot and stones were not preserved, so names and dates are not available. The markers have disappeared over the years, and could possibly be stepping stones at some of the homes in the vicinity."

The following is copied from "Some Rutherford Co., Tenn. Cemetery Records" by Jill L. Garrett & Iris H. McClain:

In Feb 1898 this cemetery received wide-spread notoriety as three of the graves were robbed by Dr. C. B. Heimark, who sold cadavers to medical schools. When the graves were found robbed, Gov. Robert Taylor called out the state militia to search all the state medical schools for the bodies. This incident caused the General Assembly to tighten the state laws on cemeteries. The graves known to have been robbed were: Steve Bennett, d. Jan 1, 1898 (His body was found in a medical school in Burlington, Vermont.) Mrs. ___Corbitt (Her body was found also in Burlington, Vermont). In 1940 her grave was still unmarked. Mrs. ___Pruitt (her body was found thrown over a fence nearby). In 1940 her grave was still unmarked. Information from Nashville Banner, Mar 19, 1940, which also had the following information: "...there hasn't been such a country gathering since," as the day they brought the bodies of Mrs. Corbitt and Steve Bennett back from Vermont. The bodies arrived in Murfreesboro by train and were met by two horse-drawn hearses...Folks crowded to see them and buggies followed the hearses all the way to the cemetery at Eagleville..." The bodies had been shipped in boxes marked "books."

609. SEARCY CEMETERY - Walter Hill Quadrangle. N on Memorial Boulevard-Lebanon Road (US 231), left (W) on Swamp-Leanna Road, right (N) on Central Valley Road. On West Fork of Stones River, ½ mile upstream and across the river from Mona Boat Ramp. Evidence of a stone fence. W. W. Searcy once had a cedar building over his grave. Evidence of other graves, but no markers. Cemetery in edge of wooded area, but open; vines covered the ground. One grave marked with limestone marker, but no inscription.

The following is copied from "Some Rutherford County, Tenn. Cemetery Records" by Jill K. Garrett & Iris H. McClain. At Walter Hill on old Jefferson Road. It was copied by WPA project on Sep 30, 1937 by Miss Annie Campbell and found in State Library & Archives in Nashville. The following description of the cemetery was included: "The Searcy family graves are enclosed by a rock fence, now in bad condition, the graves of Letitia Dance and O. H. P. Abbott being located outside the fence. The Searcy graveyard is very old and the family long ago left the community. The graveyard is in a very dilapidated condition. Col. William W. Searcy was buried in a vault undergrown, walled up with brick and native limestone. The vault is open and the tomb in pieces (not broken pieces, but apart). The slab on which the inscription is engraved is in excellent condition, having been protected by the house (over this box tomb was a wooden grave-house). The graves of the three wives were marked by box tombs, these are all apart, on the ground and the inscriptions are all but defaced by exposure to weather. There are 8 graves with stones and inscriptions: 1 grave with stone without inscription, and 3 unmarked graves." By: E. K. Johns, 1971.

Col. William W. Searcy "who was born in Granville County, North Carolina, on the 1st day of January, 1769, and died on the 8th day of Jan. 1846, in his 77th year. He removed from the state of his nativity to Kentucky with his widowed mother in 1785 where he resided until 1804, when he removed to Rutherford County, Tenn., where he ended his earthly career. He enjoyed in a high degree the confidence of the community in which he resided, at different periods, having filled various offices civil and military and amongst others, the office of Senator in the legislature of Tennessee. He was the last ten years of his life, an affectionate husband, kind father, and lived and died with the deserved reputation of an honest man."

Located in a small grove of trees near Stones River. This cemetery is the burial site of Jordan Williford according to information from Mr. Robert Sanders, who heard this from his grandparents. There were 8-10 graves in the cemetery but only one of cut limestone had an inscription. By: Robert Sanders & E. K. Johns, 1973.

This cemetery has been recorded several times. Published in "Acklen" in 1933 and by "Garrett & McClain" in 1971. There are several differences due principally to the ravages of time. There was a rock fence around the cemetery, but it has been torn down. Some of the gravesstones are reported to be gone. * Lucinda's surname could not be read in 1970. According to "Acklen" it was listed as Lucinda W. Calhoon.

EVERGREEN CEMETERY

Located in the City of Murfreesboro, Rutherford County, Tennessee, Evergreen Cemetery was purchased from the Estate of Oaklands, owned by Lewis Maney, in the Spring of 1872, and was first called "Oaklands Cemetery." Many of those who bought lots moved their loved ones from rural cemeteries or from the Old City Cemetery [on Vine Street in Murfreesboro]. For this reason, many of the dates of death will predate the establishment of Evergreen Cemetery. In January 1949 a trust fund for perpetual care of the lots was created.

The following names are from tombstone inscriptions listed and compiled by Deane Porch, July 15, 1965. The addition of this listing in no way is meant to detract from the hours of labor spent gathering data in the Cemetery by Miss Deane Porch. It is rather meant to be an enhancement and bringing together of all the Rutherford County cemetery information into one volume.

Where possible, a search of the Social Security Death Index [1962 to present] was made for additional dates. Most of the names listed in the Social Security Death Index date from the 1960s. Although the Social Security Act was created in 1935, a computer system for reporting death benefit claims did not exist until 1962. In 1965 President Lyndon Johnson signed the Medicare bill into law and many citizens over the age of 65 received Social Security cards for the first time. Updated by Kim Denny, 2002-2004.
